

Skiing from 2,020 metres

The sun and skiing paradise of Kühtai is Austria's highest ski resort and one of the most famous in Tyrol. It offers an escape from the stresses and strains of everyday life and a huge range of pistes.

There is a wide variety of well-prepared runs satisfying both beginners and advanced skiers. Fantastic deep-powder slopes are just waiting to be enjoyed. Its high altitude means Kühtai can offer guaranteed snow and ideal skiing conditions from December to May.

Comfortable on the piste

The ski lifts can be reached in no time at all from the resort's hotels and car parks. The lifts are linked by connected pistes, enabling skiers to do a "tour of Kühtai".

The 8-seater cable car KaiserBahn, three 4-seater chairlifts with wheater-protective covers, a 2-seater chairlift, six T-bars and a magic carpet for beginners await the visitor. With a transport capacity of more than 18.000 people per hour you're never left waiting!

Snowpark for fantastic rides

The fabulous snow park (k-park) offers rails, kickers, corner jumps, etc. The area is extremely diverse, with activities ranging from dry powder runs over cliffs and cornices to piste jibbing and park riding. Until the start of May it is still possible to find hiking and chill-out spots.

During the 1st Winter Youth Olympic Games, the K-Park and expected runs 11, 12 and 13 will be reserved from 9th to 21st January 2012 for the Olympic Games.

- Look up the slopes each time before starting and moving upwards.
- Only stop at the edge of the piste or where you can be seen easily.
- When climbing up or down keep to the side of the piste.
- Obey all signs and markings.
- Provide help and alert the rescue service.
- All persons involved in an accident including witnesses must exchange names and addresses.
